People are testing positive for coronavirus but don't feel sick. That means you could infect your loved ones and others without knowing it. If you need to be cleared for employment; are having COVID-19 symptoms; think you've been exposed to someone who has it; or have been in public settings with lots of people, get tested. Bring your entire family and invite your neighbors. Nasal swab testing is available for children as young as 2 years. Results are provided within 72 hours.
